

YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Aiglon scholarship is not possible without your support. But sometimes, how do you know it matters? Take a look. Students graduate this year for whom your gift made a difference. And it continues.

IMPACT REPORT 2016-2017

Clive Onyango (Belvedere, Kenyan)

“All I can say is ‘asante sana’ to express my sincere gratitude for your contribution towards modelling my life. Two years ago, it seemed impossible to picture myself being away from Nairobi; these two years at Aiglon College will be known as the time when I grew mentally, physically and spiritually into a responsible global citizen.”

Rares Purdea (Alpina, Romanian)

“Our dreams are what define us and usually a goal can be fulfilled through hard work. It is when the unrealistic dreams materialize that one could call himself privileged. I am privileged, a privilege for which I would like to thank you from the bottom of my heart! This opportunity did not only impact my education significantly, it has also given me an important set of values, teaching me how to appreciate what others do for me and the importance family, empathy and friendship.”

Tatiana Gazdova (Le Cerf, Slovakian)

“Studying at Aiglon has allowed me to flourish in academics and explore nature’s beauty through expeditions and cultural trips, thus setting my path for the future. The people are what make Aiglon different from anywhere else, the friends you make and the experiences you have with them have shaped my personality and contributed to making me who I am today. Your generosity has inspired me to help others and give back to the community. I hope one day I will be able to help students achieve their goals just as you have helped me.”

Enes Kristo (Delaware, Albanian)

As a kid from Albania opportunities are few and far in between. Aiglon has expanded my world view and allowed me to meet people from dozens of nationalities. You gave me a future outside of my country, for through the excellent college counselling, I managed to get in to Amherst College, so I can further chase my dreams and someday help a kid like myself get out of his own cage and see the world in full colours. I am grateful for and humbled by this experience, which was only possible because of your donation.”

Henry Richmond (Delaware, British)

“Aiglon’s scholarship programme has allowed me to spend my 6th form years in the most wonderful of places, and has served as a springboard for the rest of my life. The school has nurtured my enthusiasm and capability for English literature so much so that I have chosen, having been offered places from various Russell Group universities, to study at Bristol University. With Aiglon serving as a strong and creative foundation, I have aspirations to pursue the world of journalism and politics, and it is thanks to you that this has all been possible.”
