AMAZING THINGS gifts have made possible

Philanthropy has always been core to our identity – and it plays a crucial role in ensuring the Aiglon spirit continues to thrive.

16

fully funded scholars at Aiglon for the 2020/21 school year from 12 countries including Israel, Cambodia, Serbia, and Zimbabwe among others

scholars continuing their education at Cambridge

The 4th Seba CZ Scholar, Ian Onchangwa, joined Aiglon this autumn

With the support of the College & Careers department all 9 graduating scholars went on to university, many with scholarship packages

Ensured that scholarship students had airfare and wifi to access an Aiglon education both on campus and remotely

An additional scholarship will be awarded next year thanks to fundraising efforts by the Class of 2020

A welcoming, refreshed sense of arrival at the School's main entry and the creation of an eagle statue greeting visitors to campus

Campus improvements such as the new deck outside the campus cafe and new Junior School playground next to La Baita

DONATE TODAY

The support of our community sustains and encourages us as we strive to continually improve and build upon our reputation. But whether scholarships or the Campus Master Plan, we cannot do this on our own, particularly in these uncertain times. The loyalty and generosity of past generations has created a scholarship programme and a campus that Aiglonians can be proud of. Please consider making a gift to help maintain and expand these programmes.

THANK YOU.

Years ago, as a child in India, I typed "world's best school" on Google and found Aiglon. The photo of the mountains from the school clinched it; I knew immediately that Aiglon was the place for me! But I also knew that my parents couldn't afford the tuition.

I reached out to the admissions department about their scholarship program, and soon began a transformational two-year experience. I was taught by the best teachers. I learned to ski. I climbed the most majestic mountains. However, the most valuable thing that I gained was the relationships I formed. When my father and grandfather suddenly passed away from a car accident at the start of my second year, the whole community stepped forward to help me and my family. Aiglon was honestly one of the best things that have happened to me.

I hope that other scholars can be lucky enough to have the opportunity to learn, grow and discover, but most of all, find for themselves an extended family in Aiglon. Thank you to the many donors throughout our community who have made this life-changing experience possible.

I am currently a third-year International Economics student at the University of British Columbia, Canada. I envision a future for myself in consulting in which I hope I can positively impact and give back to communities through innovative and sustainable solutions.
