

The last two years have forged the characteristics I need to become a global leader. From standing at the top of the Dent du Midi, to being admitted to university, these opportunities would have all been impossible without the Aiglon community and their generosity. The friendships I have made, the teachers who have accompanied me on this journey, and the place that I would gladly call home will always remain a part of me. I send you my sincere gratitude as I head to NYU Abu Dhabi to major in Applied Mathematics.

The past two years at Aiglon were more than 730 days of being taught by world class teachers. This experience has offered me an opportunity to discover myself. So thank you for supporting me through this time of growth, and for challenging me to leave my home and family in order to find new ones. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to attend the best school in the world! This autumn I am going to NYU Abu Dhabi where I am excited to represent Aiglon's values which have so enriched my life.

As my time at Aiglon comes to an end, I can say with certainty there is no other school I would've liked to attend. I'll never forget the mountains, the skiing, the mountain biking, and above all, the people. I'll cherish the jokes, and the late night conversations among friends. As I head to the University of San Diego to continue my studies I would like to thank you for giving me this opportunity, and for allowing me to strive to become a better person.

The past two years have been heaven in all regards. I did not think it possible to have as much fun, make better friends, see such breath-taking views, or learn as extensively as I have. The Seba CZ family has been very welcoming, making me endeavour to make Seba proud. Due to this, I go to Middlebury College confident of a bright future. Every day I aspire to deserve such generosity and warmth by giving back to the community in the same spirit. This was undoubtedly the best time of my life. Thank you!

I am so thankful for the excellent academic education I received at Aiglon, but the benefits of Aiglon go way beyond this. The friends I made, the places I visited, and the countless activities I tried have all allowed me to get to know myself so much better. Next year I will attend Babson College to deepen my understanding of Entrepreneurship and hopefully, one day, develop my own social enterprise. My bond to Aiglon will remain strong, I want to give back to the school community as an expression of my gratitude.

The transition from rural Siem Reap, Cambodia to Aiglon has taught me to dream the impossible. The day of my first Aiglon expedition was also the first time I saw snow falling from the sky. Since then, I have had many first time experiences which have helped me develop into the driven and independent woman I am today. Next year I am going to Kenyon College to pursue my dream of working in International Relations and women's empowerment within the UN. I promise to pay forward the opportunities I have been given.

When I received the acceptance letter from Aiglon I knew my life was about to change. I could not have imagined to what extent! Learning to ski, becoming House Captain of the kindest and warmest house - Le Cerf, developing my values for life and discovering my passion for Mathematics; these past two years at Aiglon were truly remarkable and memorable. At Aiglon I grew, developed and thrived, and ultimately achieved heights I would never have thought possible. I now face an exciting future as I head to Stanford University. I am forever grateful!
